

The old Nebel's knitting mill (Circa 1997). Building built around 1920 showing its age.

Camden Square Interior before renovations. This gutted industrial space holds lots of redevelopment potential.

Camden Square after renovation. See the the difference a brownfields agreement can make?

Camden Square grounds after renovations. Formerly blighted but now a showpiece - folks that don't even work here drop by!

All dressed up and ready to go! Gee, these industrial sites clean up well.

New business from redevelopment. What was once abandoned, idle and under-utilized is now a source of new business, new jobs and new revenue to the community.
